Christmas At Home

RECIPES

Grape Marmalade

Wash the grapes, remove the stem and grow the pulp from the stems. Cook the pulp for 15 minutes and put it through a sieve to remove seeds. Add sugar to the pulp and measure the mixture. To one cup of pulp allow two-thirds cup of sugar. Cook about twenty minutes or until skins are tender and seal at once in sterilized jars.

One pound liver put through chopper with one large onion, then mix with giblets from one-half pound pork sausage meat, half teaspoon salt, season lightly with salt, pepper, make into balls, put in pan, water half way up to meat balls, cover, bake half hour or until done. Remove cover, last ten minutes. Serve with tomato sauce.

Candied Orange and Lemon Peel

Cut lemon or orange peel into quarters, put into strong salt water for six days. Drain, put into a pan cover with cold water, bring to a boil, and boil till soft. Drain. Make a thick syrup by boiling a pound of sugar in half a pint of water till thick, put in the peel, and boil until the syrup begins to candy round the edge of the pan. Remove the peel, stir granulated sugar over, put on wire trays to drain or on a hair sieve, when dry store in bottles or tins in a dry place.

Mix first seven ingredients, cover with the salt water and let stand 24 hours. Heat brine brine slowly until vegetables are thoroughly soaked and then drain and let stand. Mix flour, sugar, mustard and turmeric in a smooth paste with one pint vinegar. Pour gradually on remaining quart of vinegar, heated in double boiler. Cook until thick (do not boil) then add to vegetables. When cool, bottle.

MADE HONG OF THE FIRST GRAVE-DIGGER

(By Robert Munday)

When Adam tended Paradise
He did not need a spade,
But when he got the sudden shock
He had to learn a trade.
Since then the ash with iron shod
Has blistered both his hands—
So spit and dig and dig and spit
And praise a righteous God.
When Adam tended Paradise
He thought to live right long,
But when the good God kicked him out
He found he'd reckoned wrong.
Since then to live at all, poor knave,
It's dig and spit and dig,
And surely have his hands grown hard
Than he must dig his grave.
When Eden's bowers are sheathed
In ice
And he begins to dig,
When the Last Man has dug his fill
Of a departed god,
Beside the pit where he is laid
Who cannot spit or dig,
Will stand to mock the lifeless stars.
The spade, the eternal spade!

CONTEMPLATION

(By John Hall Wheelock)
These are the hours of darkness
Went to bring
The sombre revelation heaven betrays
Her very secret now—the starry maze.
The forest of the worlds, where Death is king.
Behold the stately truth! Half worshipping,
Half doubtful, the poor spirit stands at gaze.
With her few, brief, and lamentable days,
Under the silence of that shining thing
O everlasting fires and thrones of light,
A greater than yourself confronts
you here:
I dwell among you, you abide in me,
I go but, going take into the night
That other heaven where you shine
so clear.
And lovelier than in reality.

Cupboard Love

"Did you sell your vote?" inquired one man of another as they were standing in front of the polling place on election day.
"No, siree! I voted for that fellow
'cause I liked him."
"Ah, yes!" said the other. "I heard he gave you ten dollars."
"Well, when a man gives you ten dollars, isn't no more'n natural to like him, is it?"

ACROSS FRIENDLY COUNTERS

No doubt you can remember the general storekeeper in some country village. A call on him was an experience in pleasant human relationship, in honesty and neighborliness. He discussed politics and people with vigor and shrewdness. He told the truth about groceries and dress goods. His was a friendly counter, a comfortable place to trade.

But the fact is that today in towns and villages and cities everywhere hundreds of thousands of counters are honest and friendly in a way his could never be.
They offer advertised merchandise. A manufacturer stands sponsor for this merchandise. On it he has put his name and brand. So sure is he of its usefulness, its purity and correct weight, or size, or strength, or delicacy, that he talks to you about it on the page of magazines and newspapers.

From coast to coast you can buy his product with confidence. Wherever you find it, and wherever sells it, you have the assurance that its quality will be what you expect and that the price you pay is fair.

In your home town and wherever you travel on business or pleasure, you may trade at friendly counters! You may buy advertised merchandise!

THE PICTURES

The program previously looked for Thursday, Friday, and Saturday this week was "The Front Page," but this has been changed, and instead of it "The Life of the Party."

"The Life of the Party," the latest Warner Brothers and Vitaphone comedy in natural color, which will be seen Friday and Saturday of this week at the Orpheum Theatre, Oct. 20 and 21, marks the return of Miss Winona Lightner in her most hilarious role. The tomboy of the talkies outdoes even herself as the New York song plugger who decides to turn gold digger, she sides a superstitious horse, on a Havana race-track — barely escapes jail — manages a major dike hunt for a pal and falls in for so near reward for herself.

Irene Delroy, the Broadway stage star who made her screen debut in "Mystery From Naples," depicts the role of a beautiful gold digger who is managed by Winnetta on a straight ten per cent basis. Jack Whiting, and Yule, the young millionaires whose timely gallantry saves the two girls from the police. Charlie Judels is seen as the amorous modiste-shop proprietor who follows Winnetta and Irene to Havana to recover his stolen dress.

A first class program will be shown Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday of next week. A change in booking previous announcing the name of the picture.

Romantic Laguna beach on the coast of southern California served as the background for the charming love scenes in "Shipwrecked," Robert Montgomery's first starring picture, which comes to the Orpheum Theatre Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of next week, Nov. 5, 6, and 7.

Laguna Beach is famed for its unique rock-marine formations and curving coast line, and is the mecca for artists who bring its picturesque beauty to canvas. The palisades on the shore are free quays by seals who make the natural marine caves their winter quarters.

Henry Pollard directed the thrilling navy story with the cast including Ernest Torrence, Dorothy Jordan, Hobart Bosworth, Cliff Edwards, Gavin Gordon, Joan Marsh, and other stars.

"The Desert Song" is coming Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, Nov. 9, 10, and 11 — Chautauque week.
